

TRANSLATION
RIGHTS GUIDE

Translation Rights Guide

Highlights 2019

New and forthcoming titles in:

- Ageing and Gerontology
- Business and Management
- Children, Young People and Families
- Criminology
- Economics and Society
- Education
- Environment and Sustainability
- Health and Social Care
- Human Geography
- Planning and Housing
- Politics and International Relations
- Social and Public Policy
- Social Research Methods
- Social Work
- Sociology

BRISTOL
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Policy Press
PUBLISHING WITH A PURPOSE

Bestsellers for 2019

Generation Share The Change-Makers Building the Sharing Economy

Benita Matofska and Sophie Sheinwald

PB: 9781447337263

£25.00

17 June 2019

304 pages

256 photos

Generation Share takes readers on a fascinating journey around the world to meet the inspiring people who are building a Sharing Economy. Through photography, social commentary and interviews with change-makers worldwide, Generation Share showcases incredible stories demonstrating the power of sharing.

The book introduces real-life examples, including a young social entrepreneur in Mumbai who is educating slum-based girls and a Makers collective in Barcelona who are reimagining cities using technology to upcycle precious resources. Together their stories and photographs bring to life the phenomenon that has the potential to cause the most significant shift in society since the Industrial Revolution.

Benita Matofska is an international public speaker, change-maker and world-leading expert on the Sharing Economy. Sophie Sheinwald is a photographer who focuses on brand photography and helping entrepreneurs create an authentic visual story.

Press coverage: International book tour across three continents. Featured on Via News, JazzFM, The Jewish Chronicle, Disruption magazine and more

World rights available

The Class Ceiling Why it Pays to be Privileged

Sam Friedman and Daniel Laurison

PB: 9781447336068

£19.99

28 January 2019

384 pages

Politicians continually tell us that anyone can get ahead. But is that really true? This important, bestselling book takes readers behind the closed doors of elite employers to reveal how class affects who gets to the top.

Friedman and Laurison show that a powerful 'class pay gap' exists in Britain's elite occupations. Even when those from working-class backgrounds make it into prestigious jobs, they earn, on average, 16 per cent less than colleagues from privileged backgrounds. But why is this the case? Drawing on 175 interviews across four case studies – television, accountancy, architecture, and acting – they explore the complex barriers facing the upwardly mobile.

This is a rich, ambitious book that demands we take seriously not just the glass but also the class ceiling.

Sam Friedman is Associate Professor in Sociology, London School of Economics and a Commissioner at the Social Mobility Commission. Daniel Laurison is Assistant Professor at Swarthmore College, USA.

Press coverage: Featured in BBC 2's 'How to Break into the Elite' documentary, The Guardian, The Times and more

World rights available

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

World rights available

The Happiness Problem Expecting Better in an Uncertain World

Sam Wren-Lewis

PB: 9781447353553 £12.99

9 November 2019 232 pages

We appear to have more control over our lives than ever before. If we could get things right – the perfect job, relationship, family, body and mind – then we'd be happy. With enough economic growth and technological innovation, we could cure all societal ills.

The Happiness Problem shows that this way of thinking is too simplistic and can even be harmful: no matter how much progress we make, we will still be vulnerable to disappointment, loss and suffering. The things we do to make us happy are merely the tip of the iceberg.

Sam Wren-Lewis offers an alternative process that acknowledges insecurity and embraces uncertainty. Drawing on our psychological capacities for curiosity and compassion, he proposes that we can connect with, and gain a deeper understanding of, the personal and social challenges that define our time.

Sam Wren-Lewis is an independent scholar, a wellbeing consultant and former Head of Research and Development at Happy City.

World rights available

Social Innovation How Societies Find the Power to Change

Geoff Mulgan

PB: 9781447353799 £14.99

26 November 2019 288 pages

The 21st century has brought a cornucopia of new knowledge and technologies. But there has been little progress in our ability to solve social problems using social innovation – the deliberate invention of new solutions to meet social needs – across the globe.

Geoff Mulgan is a pioneer in the global field of social innovation. Building on his experience advising international governments, businesses and foundations, he explains how it provides answers to today's global social, economic and sustainability issues.

Weaving together history, ideas, policy and practice, he shows how social innovation is now coming of age, and offers a comprehensive view of what can be done to solve the global social challenges we face.

Geoff Mulgan is Chief Executive of Nesta, the UK's innovation foundation.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

World rights available

Women, Politics and the Public Sphere

Ann Brooks

PB: 9781447341352

£22.99

24 April 2019

224 pages

Looks at the fault lines established in the 18th century for later developments in social and political discourse and considers the implications for the political representation of women in the West and globally, highlighting how female public intellectuals now reflect much more social and cultural diversity.

Covering the legacy of intellectual groupings dominated by women such as members of the 'bluestocking circles' and other, more radical intellectual and philosophical thinkers, the book focuses on women such as Catherine Macaulay and Mary Wollstonecraft. These individuals and groups, which emerged in the 18th century, established 'intellectual spaces' for the emergence of women public intellectuals in subsequent centuries. It also examines women public intellectuals in the US including Samantha Power, Anne-Marie Slaughter, Elizabeth Warren, Condoleezza Rice, Susan Rice, Hillary Clinton and Sheryl Sandberg.

Ann Brooks is a visiting professor at the Australian Catholic University.

World rights available

Experiences in Researching Conflict and Violence

Fieldwork Interrupted

Althea-Maria Rivas and Brendan Ciarán Browne

PB: 9781447337690

£26.99

7 August 2019

256 pages

This collection explores the roles of emotion, violence, uncertainty, identity and positionality within the process of doing research in and on conflict zones, as well as the complexity of methodological choices.

It highlights the researchers' own subjectivity and presents a nuanced view of conflict research that goes beyond the messiness inherent in the process of research in and on violence and the potential for violence of research itself. It addresses the uncomfortable spaces of conflict research and the need for reflection on these issues.

Althea-Maria Rivas is a lecturer in the Department of Development Studies at the University of Sussex. Brendan Ciarán Browne is Assistant Professor in Conflict Resolution and research fellow at the Trinity College Dublin Centre for Post-Conflict Justice.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

Rights sold in Hungary

Good Finance Why We Need a New Concept of Finance

Vedat Akgiray

PB: 9781529200003

£12.99

5 June 2019

162 pages

Just as we need good food for good health, so too do we need 'good finance' for social and economic wellness.

In this book, Vedat Akgiray presents a timely critique of extreme financialisation, the economics profession's flawed modelling approach and the continuing blind faith in the efficient market hypothesis.

Outlining the causes of financial crises and their socioeconomic effects, Good Finance puts the issues into perspective. It offers a clear platform upon which our current concept of finance can be revised for the good of society.

Vedat Akgiray is Professor of Finance and Director of the Center for Corporate Governance at Bogazici University, Turkey.

A Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2019

World rights available

A Handbook of Food Crime Immoral and Illegal Practices in the Food Industry and What to Do about Them

Allison Gray and Ronald Hinch

PB: 9781447356288

£26.99

9 October 2019

384 pages

In this insightful book, Gray and Hinch explore the phenomenon of food crime. Through discussions of food safety, food fraud, food insecurity, agricultural labour, livestock welfare, genetically modified foods, food sustainability, food waste, food policy, and food democracy, they problematise current food systems and criticise their underlying ideologies.

Bringing together the best contemporary research in this area, they argue for the importance of thinking criminologically about food and propose radical solutions to the realities of unjust food systems.

Allison Gray is a PhD candidate at the University of Windsor. Ronald Hinch, PhD, is Professor Emeritus at the University of Ontario Institute of Technology.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

Rights sold in China

Age-Friendly Cities and Communities A Global Perspective

Tine Buffel, Sophie Handler and Chris Phillipson

PB: 9781447331346

£27.99

20 February 2019

276 pages

As the drive towards creating age-friendly cities grows, this important book provides a comprehensive survey of theories and policies aimed at improving the quality of life of older people in urban areas.

In this book, leading international researchers critically assess the problems and the potential of designing age-friendly environments. The book considers the different ways in which cities are responding to population ageing, the different strategies for developing age-friendly communities, and the extent to which older people themselves can be involved in the co-production of age-friendly policies and practices.

Tine Buffel is a research fellow in the School of Social Sciences at the University of Manchester. Sophie Handler is an urban researcher. Chris Phillipson is Professor of Sociology and Social Gerontology in the School of Social Sciences at the University of Manchester.

World rights available

Child Poverty Aspiring to Survive

Morag C. Treanor

PB: 9781447334682

£24.99

26 February 2020

240 pages

Child poverty is rising across affluent western societies and how it is measured is vital to how governments act to prevent, alleviate or eliminate it. While the roots of childhood poverty are fiercely debated and contested, they are all too often misrepresented in policy and media discourses.

Seeking to redress this, Treanor places children's experiences, needs and concerns at the centre of this critical examination of the contemporary policies and political discourses surrounding poverty in childhood. She examines a broad range of structural, institutional and ideological factors that are common across developed nations, and their impacts, to interrogate how poverty in childhood is conceptualised and operationalised in policy and to forge a radical pathway for an alternative future.

Morag Treanor is Professor of Child and Family Inequalities at the Institute for Social Policy, Housing, Equalities Research (I-SPHERE) at Heriot-Watt University, Edinburgh.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

World rights available

Too Hot to Handle? The Democratic Challenge of Climate Change

Rebecca Willis

PB: 9781529206029

£12.99

1 January 2020

128 pages

World leaders have agreed to limit rises in global temperatures, yet climate issues scarcely trouble domestic policies. Implementing climate solutions successfully through the democratic process requires a radical political shift and an overhaul of the laws and systems that govern our society.

Drawing on interviews with politicians and activists, this book provides an in-depth comparative analysis of international climate policies to examine how we can build impactful democratic solutions to climate change. The author confronts the difficulties of fitting the climate change agenda into the current political system, including how to make it a voter priority, while proposing practical ways forward for climate change politics.

Rebecca Willis is a researcher at Lancaster University.

Press coverage: Featured in The Conversation, The Strategist, Asia Dialogue and more

World rights available

Modi and the Reinvention of Indian Foreign Policy

Ian Hall

PB: 9781529204629

£19.99

25 September 2019

236 pages

Narendra Modi's energetic personal diplomacy and promise to make India a 'leading power' surprised many analysts. Most had predicted that his government would concentrate on domestic issues and on the growth and development demanded by Indian voters, and that he lacked the necessary experience in international relations.

Instead, Modi's first term saw a concerted attempt to reinvent Indian foreign policy by replacing inherited understandings of its place in the world with one drawn largely from Hindu nationalist ideology. Following Modi's re-election in 2019, this book explores the drivers of this reinvention, arguing it arose from a combination of elite conviction and electoral calculation, and the impact it has had on India's international relations.

Ian Hall is Professor in the School of Government and International Relations at Griffith University, Australia.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

World rights available

Living Data Making Sense of Health Biosensing

Celia Roberts, Adrian Mackenzie and Maggie Mort with Mette Kragh-Furbo, Joann Wilkinson and Theresa Atkinson

HB: 9781529207507

£45.00

24 July 2019

208 pages

As individuals increasingly seek ways of accessing, understanding and sharing data about their own bodies, this book offers a critique of the popular claim that 'more information' equates to 'better health'. In a study that redefines the public, academic and policy related debates around health, bodies, information and data, the authors consider the ways in which the phenomenon of self-diagnosis has created alternative worlds of knowledge and practices which are often at odds with professional medical advice. With a focus on data that concerns significant life changes, this book explores the potential challenges related to people's changing relationships with traditional health systems as access to, and control over, data shifts.

Celia Roberts is Professor of Gender and Science Studies in the Department of Sociology at Lancaster University. Adrian Mackenzie is Professor of Technological Cultures in the Department of Sociology at Lancaster University. Maggie Mort is Professor of Sociology in the Department of Sociology at Lancaster University.

World rights available

Data in Society Challenging Statistics in an Age of Globalisation

Jeff Evans, Sally Ruane and Humphrey Southall

PB: 9781447348221

£29.99

21 August 2019

414 pages

Statistical data and evidence-based claims are increasingly central to our everyday lives. Critically examining 'Big Data', this book charts the recent explosion in sources of data, including those precipitated by global developments and technological change. It sets out changes and controversies related to data harvesting, construction, dissemination and analytics by a range of private, governmental and social organisations in multiple settings.

Analysing the power of data to shape political debate, the presentation of ideas to us by the media, and issues surrounding data ownership and access, the authors suggest how data can be used to uncover injustices and to advance social progress.

Jeff Evans is Professor Emeritus at Middlesex University. Sally Ruane is Reader in Social Policy and the Director of the Health Policy Research Unit at De Montfort University. Humphrey Southall is Professor of Historical Geography at the University of Portsmouth.

Highlight titles for Autumn 2019

World rights available

How to Use Social Work Theory in Practice An Essential Guide

Malcolm Payne

PB: 9781447343776

£24.99

8 January 2020

176 pages

Social work theory is full of ideas about how to practise. It guides you in what to do, as well as how to approach and think about social work goals.

In this clear and systematic book, covering both general practice concepts and theoretical insights, bestselling author Malcolm Payne shows you how to work with the main theories and practice techniques and pinpoint their strengths and limitations.

This guide condenses the practical features of social work theory but doesn't oversimplify them. Students and practitioners can confidently put their knowledge into action and see how everyday practice implements theoretical ideas. It will be an invaluable resource to students and newly qualified practitioners in social work and in related fields of practice, making connections with both classic and contemporary movements in social work

Malcolm Payne is Emeritus Professor at Manchester Metropolitan University and Kingston University, London and Director of Psychosocial and Spiritual Care, St Christopher's Hospice, London.

World rights available

Research and the Social Work Picture

Ian Shaw

PB: 9781447338901

£26.99

11 September 2019

208 pages

There's growing pressure for social workers to engage with research and draw on this in practice. But why is this research important?

This first book in the Research in Social Work series, published in association with the European Social Work Research Association, provides an accessible way to think about this question. Drawing on evidence from across Europe, Asia and the US, it covers how research is conducted, used and perceived. It is perfect for social work students, researchers and practitioners, providing a detailed sketch of how research finds a place in the wider social work picture and offering opportunities and exercises that highlight how social work research is relevant in day-to-day course programmes and practice.

The book will embolden a kind of scepticism, while at the same time providing the ground work for social workers to become more thoughtfully practical – and practically thoughtful.

Dr Ian Shaw is S R Nathan Professor of Social Work, National University of Singapore and Professor Emeritus, University of York.

Series: Global Migration and Change

Series Editors: Nando Sigona, Institute for Research into Superdiversity, University of Birmingham, UK and Alan Gamlen, Monash University, Australia

This monograph series showcases original research that looks at the nexus between migration, citizenship and social change. This series aims to open up interdisciplinary terrain and to develop new scholarship in migration and refugee studies that is theoretically insightful and innovative, empirically rich and policy engaged.

Borders, Migration and Class in an Age of Crisis

Producing Workers and Immigrants

Tom Vickers

Informed by Marxist theory, this book examines how categories of 'workers' and 'migrants' have been mobilised within representations of a 'migrant crisis' and a 'welfare crisis' to facilitate capitalist exploitation, and proposes alternative understandings that foreground solidarity.

World rights available

HB: 978152920181 £75.00
3 July 2019

Negotiating Migration in the Context of Climate Change

International Policy and Discourse

Sarah Louise Nash

Assessing migration in the context of climate change, Nash draws on empirical research to offer a unique analysis of policymaking in the field. This detailed account is a vital step in understanding the links between global discourses on human mobilities, climate change and specific policy responses.

World rights available

HB: 9781529201260 £75.00
2 October 2019

Belonging in Translation

Solidarity and Migrant Activism in Japan

Reiko Shindo

This is the first book to investigate how migrants and migrant rights activists work together to generate new forms of citizenship identities in a multilingual setting. Based on robust theoretical engagement and detailed empirical analysis, Shindo's book makes a compelling case for rethinking citizenship and community from the angle of language.

World rights available

HB: 9781529201871 £75.00
28 August 2019

New Series: Bristol Studies in East Asian International Relations

Bristol studies in

East Asian International Relations

Edited by Yongjin Zhang, Shogo Suzuki and Peter Marcus Kristensen

A major new series from Bristol University Press that combines original research and theoretical innovation to provide fresh insight into the changing international politics of East Asia and into International Relations theory.

The series publishes cutting edge research on the changing international politics of East Asia. It will cover the security dynamics, political economy, causes of conflict and cooperation, and ongoing transformation of the region, as well as the impact of such transformation on the wider global order.

The Responsibility to Provide in Southeast Asia

Towards an Ethical Explanation
See Seng Tan

Despite a long-held ASEAN principle of non-intervention, this theoretically rich book argues that there is an embryonic ethic of regional responsibility emerging among the countries of Southeast Asia which reflects an evolution of attitudes about state sovereignty.

World rights available

HB: 9781529200720 £75.00
13 November 2019

Series: 21st Century Standpoints

Accessible, social and political commentary from Policy Press and the British Sociological Association.

What are the 21st-century challenges shaping our lives today and in the future? This exciting new series showcases lively, disruptive, progressive writers – established and emerging – who reach beyond the academy. Cosmopolitan in vision and scope, included works are based on striking ideas and robust evidence, providing a powerful platform for both scholarly and public debate.

Bringing pressing public issues to the general reader, scholars and students, these books offer standpoints to shape public conversations at this time of social, political, economic and cultural disruption. They move beyond simple critique to propose better ways of understanding and living in our world.

Money
Myths, Truths and Alternatives
Mary Mellor

Mary Mellor examines money's social, political and commercial histories to debunk longstanding myths such as money being in short supply and needing to come from somewhere. She sets out a new finance system, based on green and feminist concerns, to bring radical change for social good.

PB: 9781447346272 £14.99
3 July 2019

World rights available

What's Wrong with Work?
Lynne Pettinger

What's Wrong with Work shows that how workers are treated has wide implications beyond the lives of workers themselves.

Recognising gender, race, class and global differences, the book considers the ways formal work is often dependent on informal work and concludes by considering what might make work better.

PB: 9781447340089 £12.99
24 April 2019

World rights available

Other Highlights

The Economics of Arrival
Ideas for a Grown Up Economy
Katherine Trebeck and Jeremy Williams

In this groundbreaking book, Trebeck and Williams challenge us to make ourselves at home with economic wealth, to ensure that everyone is included. They explore the possibility of 'Arrival', urging us to move from enlarging the economy to improving it, and the benefits this would bring for all.

PB: 9781447337263 £14.99
15 January 2019

Rights sold in Hungary

The Lies We Were Told
Politics, Economics, Austerity and Brexit
Simon Wren-Lewis

Wren-Lewis' widely read Mainly Macro blog is an influential resource for policymakers, academics and social commentators. This book tells how damaging political and economic events of recent years became inevitable and serves as a warning to avert future disasters on this scale.

PB: 9781529202137 £14.99
7 November 2018

Rights sold in China

Other Highlights

The End of Aspiration? Social Mobility and Our Children's Fading Prospects

Duncan Exley

Exley draws on expert research and real-life experiences – including from an actor, a politician, a billionaire entrepreneur and a surgeon – to issue a wake-up call to break through segregated opportunity. He offers a manifesto to reboot our prospects and benefit all.

PB: 9781447348320 £12.99
15 May 2019

World rights available

What Works Now?

Evidence-Informed Policy and Practice

Annette Boaz, Huw Davies, Alec Fraser and Sandra Nutley

Building substantially on the earlier, landmark text What Works? (Policy Press, 2000), this book brings together key thinkers and researchers to provide a clearly structured review of the aspirations and contemporary realities of evidence-informed policy and practice.

PB: 9781447345480 £24.99
27 March 2019

World rights available

Redeeming Leadership An Anti-Racist Feminist Intervention

Helena Liu

This timely and thought-provoking new study by Liu shows how anti-racist feminism can reinvigorate leadership theory and practice, which have long been dominated by imperialist, masculinist and white supremacist agendas. Theoretically rigorous and with examples from around the world, it states the case for a bold reimagining of leadership.

HB: 9781529200041 £75.00
8 January 2020

World rights available

Transnational Migration and the New Subjects of Work

Transmigrants, Hybrids and Cosmopolitans

Banu Özkazanç-Pan

A first in utilising transnational migration studies as a new theoretical framework in management and organization studies, this book presents a much-needed new concept for understanding people, work and organisations in a world on the move while attending to the growing inequality associated with work in changing societies.

HB: 9781529204544 £75.00
26 September 2019

World rights available

Why Minor Powers Risk Wars with Major Powers

A Comparative Study of the Post-Cold War Era

Marinko Bobić

Using case studies spanning the post-Cold War period in Iraq, Moldova and Serbia, this book breaks new ground in its study of asymmetric conflicts where warring sides exhibit vastly different power differentials.

HB: 9781529205206 £75.00
23 October 2019

World rights available

Ageing in Everyday Life

Materialities and Embodiments

Stephen Katz

What does it mean to age in an ageist society? Applying interdisciplinary perspectives about everyday life to vital issues in older people's lives, this is a critical guide to inform thinking and planning our ageing futures.

PB: 9781447335962 £26.99
1 October 2019

World rights available

Other Highlights

Research Ethics in the Real World Euro-Western and Indigenous Perspectives

Helen Kara

Highlights the links between research ethics and individual, social, professional, institutional, and political ethics. Kara considers all stages of the research process and provides guidance for quantitative, qualitative and mixed-methods researchers about how to act ethically throughout.

World rights available

PB: 9781447344759 £21.99
14 November 2018

More from Helen Kara available

Women and Religion

Contemporary and Future Challenges in the Global Era

Elisabetta Ruspini, Glenda Tibe Bonifacio and Consuelo Corradi

This edited collection provides interdisciplinary, global and multi-religious perspectives on the relationship between women's identities, religion and social change in the contemporary world.

PB: 9781447336402 £26.99
11 September 2019

World rights available

The City in China

New Perspectives On Contemporary Urbanism

Ray Forrest, Julie Ren and Bart Wissink

This book gathers together reflections from a broad range of urban China specialists to actively engage with the challenge of conceptualising urban China and ask important questions about the development of contemporary global cities.

World rights available

HB: 9781529205473 £75.00
17 July 2019

Divercities

Understanding Super-diversity in Deprived and Mixed Neighbourhoods

Stijn Oosterlynck, Gert Verschraegen and Ronald van Kempen

Provides a comparative international perspective on super-diversity in cities, with explicit attention given to social inequality and social exclusion on a neighbourhood level.

PB: 9781447338185 £24.99
1 January 2020

World rights available

Mental Health in Later Life Taking a Life Course Approach

Alisoun Milne

Drawing together material from a number of different fields, the book analyses the meaning and determinants of mental health among older populations and offers a critical review of the life course, ageing and mental health debate.

PB: 9781447305712 £28.99
19 February 2020

World rights available

Intellectual Disability in the Twentieth Century

Transnational Perspectives on People, Policy, and Practice

Jan Walmsley and Simon Jarrett

Bringing together accounts of how intellectual disability was viewed, managed and experienced in countries across the globe, the book examines the origins and nature of contemporary attitudes, policy and practice, and sheds light on the challenges of implementing the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

HB: 9781447344575 £75.00
23 May 2019

World rights available

Other Highlights

The Modern Slavery Agenda

Policy, Politics and Practice

Gary Craig, Alex Balch, Hannah Lewis and Louise Waite

Modern slavery is growing despite the introduction of laws to try to stem it. This is the first book to critically assess the legislation, using evidence from across the field, and to offer strategies for improvement in policy and practice.

World rights available

PB: 9781447346807 £24.99
17 January 2019

Tea and the Queen?

Fundamental British Values, Schools and Citizenship

Carol Vincent

Teachers in the UK are now required to promote 'British values' in schools to all pupils. This book draws on observations and teachers' views to discuss issues of citizenship, social class, ethnicity, religion, counter-extremism and community cohesion, and the implications of this policy for teachers, students and society.

World rights available

HB: 9781447351955 £40.00
24 July 2019

A Criminology of War?

Ross McGarry and Sandra Walklate

While providing an implicit critique of mainstream criminology, the authors seek to question if a 'criminology of war' is possible, and if so how this seemingly 'new horizon' of the discipline might be usefully informed by sociology.

World rights available

HB: 9781529202595 £60.00
3 July 2019

Climate Change Criminology

Rob White

Leading green criminologist White asks what can be learned from the problem-solving focus of crime prevention to help face the challenges of climate change. Part of the New Horizons in Criminology series.

World rights available

PB: 9781529203974 £21.99
1 April 2020

Local Social Innovation to Combat Poverty and Exclusion

A Critical Appraisal

Stijn Oosterlynck, Andreas Novy and Yuri Kazepov

Based on more than thirty case studies in eight different countries, this book explores the governance dynamics of local social innovations in the field of poverty reduction, illustrating how different governance dynamics and welfare mixes enable or hinder poverty reduction strategies.

World rights available

HB: 9781447338444 £75.00
27 November 2019

Planning and Knowledge

How New Forms of Technocracy Are Shaping Contemporary Cities

Mike Raco and Federico Savini

This book uses an international perspective to look at the sources of conflict and cooperation between the different landscapes of knowledge driving contemporary urban change, and the rise of new technocracy in urban governance.

World rights available

HB: 9781447345244 £75.00
10 July 2019

BIG IDEAS

Our 'Big Ideas' titles are intelligent, interdisciplinary books that present critical thought and evidence in a succinct and readable way to help to untangle contemporary social issues.

These books aim to surprise, disrupt and change the way we think, addressing cross-cutting issues such as class, race, gender, politics and social inequality.

Aimed at thoughtful and engaged readers who want to challenge received opinion, these titles will help us to work towards a common cause of social justice.

Find out more on our website: bristoluniversitypress.co.uk/big-ideas

Translation rights

For all translation queries, please contact Jo Greig:
Bristol University Press, 1-9 Old Park Hill, Bristol BS2 8BB
e: jo.greig@bristol.ac.uk
t: +44 (0) 117 394 5940

Browse our full range of titles by subject or download our catalogue at bristoluniversitypress.co.uk.

Bristol University Press and Policy Press

Bristol University Press is unique: it is a young university press with a bold vision that emerges out of Policy Press' long-held, critically acclaimed reputation as a key publisher on social issues, with an ethos of social justice and respect for diversities.

We are committed to publishing the highest-quality scholarship in the social sciences and aligned disciplines and want our work to make a positive contribution, from the advancement of ideas through to practical implementation.